

Press release

16.07.2021

STEQ America is new distributor for the castus® Product Line

Ochsenhausen, 16.07.2021 – STEQ America becomes the representative of castus® in another important market.

As of July 01, 2021, STEQ America been appointed as the distributor for castus® transfer systems in North, Central and South America. STEQ America LLC. located in Fort Washington, Pennsylvania, provides equipment and services to biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies with a focus on the development and manufacturing of pharmaceutical products. A division of the STEQ group, which has been in operation for more than 20 years, STEQ America successfully develops technology-oriented solutions for the pharmaceutical, biotech and life science industries.

Jürgen Hoffmann, Managing Director of castus®, is convinced that STEQ America is a strong partner that also values close and personal customer support, just like the German manufacturer of transfer systems itself. "With this cooperation, we can offer our American customers a competent local contact and further expand our position on the American market."

"The STEQ team brings extensive technical know-how in the field of isolator technology," emphasizes Steffen Coatti, Team Lead Sales at castus®. "We are thus strengthening our sales and service network and supporting the growth of our customers. "

The new partnership unites castus® transfer technology with the experience, solidity, and technical knowledge of STEQ America. In this new partnership, STEQ America's activities will include sales and after-sales service for the entire line of castus® products.

Sales partner: STEQ America

STEQ America LLC. is project partner to biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies in finding industry-leading targeted solutions. A division of the STEQ group, which has been in operation for more than 20 years, STEQ America have garnered much success offering technology-led solutions to the pharmaceutical, biotech and life science industries, including innovative products for steam sterilization, isolation technology, bioGO cGMP Cleanrooms, cGMP Washers, bioreactors and fermentation systems, magnetic agitators and more.

Contact person

castus®

Jana Stolz

Kolpingstr. 34

88416 Ochsenhausen

Phone: 07352 92187-0

jana.stolz@castus.pro

www.castus.pro